SIR,

[illegible]

Yours faithfully,

too low a bid. In the subsequent resales they fetched no bids and action was taken to levy the hulbanni for the three years 1930-31, -32 and 1932-33. The actual realisations are Rs 24-4-0, Rs 24-4-0 and Rs 30-7-0 respectively. The Amildar who has made a personal inspection of these lands states that they are far away from the neighbouring villages, that the ryots are not likely to take them up for cultivation on account of their being slopy and stony and that consequently no income can be anticipated to the temple. The cesses due on the lands have however been adjusted for the five years commencing from 1928-29 from out of the realisations of the hulbanni and the lease sale.

The marginally noted lands were unassessed waste at the time of the Government Order passing the restoration of the inam lands and they were actually got assessed later on. The amount of jodi imposed before the relinquishment by Nanjundasastry was Rs 34-15-0 and the proportionate jodi now to be levied is reported to be Rs 21-1-0. In these circumstances I request that fixing of the jodi on the devadaya inam lands may kindly be arranged for.

) the month of Magha. The inam tenure was allowed at the time of the Inam Settlement and in the subsequent Survey Settlement the entire village was included in the pucca village of Chickabidare. Some time later the then Inamdar Nanjundasastry absolutely relinquished all the inam lands in the year 1877-1878. This was accepted. The first nine lands were disposed of in darkhast sales and the rest remained as they were. The total extent of the land thus disposed of is 86 acres 7 guntas which was assessed at Rs 51/-.

Subsequently a representation was made to the Muzrai Commissioner by the citizens of Chiknaikanahalli to the effect that the lands relinquished by Nanjundasastry may be granted as Inam to the temple in question in view of its being an old institution. A recommendation was made to Government in this connection who ordered in their No.489-92/Muz.385-27-4 dated 31-8-28 that such of the lands as were not yet disposed of may be treated as devadaya inam lands for the benefit of the temple.

Thereupon the lands were accordingly treated and action was taken to lease them . They were bid for an annual rental of Rs 60/- from 1929-30 for five years but the lease sale was confirmed for only that year on the grou that it was too low
